CITIES

VIEW THE WORLD FROM SEVERAL PERSPECTIVES.

The mix of Shanghai, Seoul and Singapore is a carefully considered strategic partnership. From the sheer scale of Shanghai, to the ambitious and business-friendly Singapore, to the cultural diversity of Seoul, life in these three cities will cast three very different perspectives on what it means to do business in Asia.

SINGAPORE
A dynamic city rich in contrast and colour, Singapore offers a harmonious blend of culture, cuisine, arts and architecture. Located in the heart of Southeast Asia, Singapore has been a bridge between the East and the West for centuries and continues to embrace both tradition and modernity today. The city is consistently ranked the world’s easiest place to do business, which has resulted in a strong economy enhanced by the presence of many global organisations.

SHANGHAI
With over 20 million people, Shanghai is the largest city in China and one of the most rapidly expanding metropolitan areas in the world. In the 1990s, economic reforms resulted in intense development and financing, and in 2005, Shanghai became the world’s busiest cargo port. Today, it is the largest centre of commerce and finance in Mainland China, and is considered the “showpiece” of the world’s fastest growing economy.

SEOUL
Seoul is the capital and largest city of South Korea with a population of over 10 million. It represents one of the world’s top 10 financial and commercial cities and is home to some of the world’s largest conglomerates such as Samsung, LG and Hyundai-Kia. In 2011, Seoul was named the world’s tenth most economically powerful city by Forbes, ahead of Paris and Los Angeles.
